Comments

I hope everyone enjoyed the courses today and that the planning was good, I welcome any feedback you can either text me on 07933263290 or email the EPOC email. I have really enjoyed my first planning experience for EPOC and look forward to meeting more of you when real orienteering returns. The route analysis should make for some interesting viewing and the King and Queen of the hill have been crowned. Now on to some course specifics. The vegetation had spurted up in the past week with the recent rainfall, but I hope that didn't cause too many problems or too many nettle cuts and strings. The ground was very wet and the pavements slippery but as I'm aware nobody took too bad a fall (apart from me). I'm really pleased to see such a large turn out at the event today and I'm sure this will continue for the rest of the series.
